Today on Christmas I edited this book with a reminder to please help. Evelyn Yudowitz and my siblings have a long history of evil, literally sending me to my room for only defending myself against my siblings, as a child during Christmas to open and keep all my gifts for themselves. I remember those nights well, crying in my room while they and my Aunt Ruth pearl laughed and played with them. This was around the time she used an anal thermometer on me while skipping school, and a few years after she covered up my only chance to get help from their abuses, when she covered up the 1979 doctors report.

When will people wake up and stop believing the boloney which the Yudowitz dish out?

There are dozens of times I caught them involved in this murder for hire many times, any of you can talk with me about for further explanation.

There are many details which I would like the chance to talk with you about. I had to explain in as few words as possible.

By only 1 Philippines law I can prove that the State Department resources and NSA played a direct role in attempts on my life, taking my baby and a kind lady who intervened already.

This happened beginning 2010 in several countries. These same Americans left telephone messages and phone calls. To my parents' home.

This one Philippines law is the one and only explanation for how an American ex-military was able to come to my girlfriend's room led by local police support. And they also carried local police identification. And I only listed her room on my repatriation loan with the US State Department. The repatriation loan failed. The embassy itself calculated the amount and requested my parents send 2500 to arrange my travel out of the country, but they only sent 1500. My girlfriend and I made a police blotter at this time. Many people saw this group come to our room as it was on a highway.

My girlfriend made a statement (I attached an audio file) about how they offered her anything she wanted to help them kill me. She told me they might kill her during our baby's birth. She proceeded to squeeze our baby's head in half and what looked to be poison as well. The SUV in her statement is the same SUV that I called the Manila embassy about in the morning before I left our hotel on my way to the police about them. I never told her about it. When I called the embassy, they told me which police station to go to, and soon after, while running for my life, I caught an American driver searching for me saying on his phone for someone to call that police station as well. Their international postal mail with a check arrived and then had to wait for clearance, which it did by the exact day my baby was murdered. I had called the consulate that week from the police station's family service department, and also the embassy in an effort to get money for our home, which we fled because those people tried to break into our apartment at night. It seemed that they sent the postal order for diabolical reasons. Ann had sent an email making fun that there were Americans coming to my home and she asked for my street address so her new husband Chris could visit, but she never did ask again after my escapes. No normal person would send a personal check across the world for an emergency or baby care, and wires were usual. The moment I called my father to tell him about the murder, he only replied that he had terminal cancer. And from that day Martin spread a rumor that this was a miscarriage, even though he had no idea, or was trying to cover up, the crimes.

Then I found out from those same Americans about some Boston trust account with me as the beneficiary. I found out about this trust the week of my baby's murder. Those Americans stopped all my money. They blocked a loan by going in to speak with the lender about me. The loan was already approved and given to me before regularly for our baby's care during the last trimester. These Americans also came to our new room that week to threaten to kill us when my family sent a postal money order instead of a wire gift.

I found out later that they did not want me to have that baby. It would have taken extra money from the family to support me and the baby. In addition, my family had already decided that I would die.

Upon hiring a Boston lawyer to find this trust account, my mother's best friend Carol recently sent money to the co-trustee of that account. She is just one of my family's connections to CIA and NSA agents. It had always been obvious they used some CIA or NSA personnel to kill me; whether retired or not, or think tank analysts friends of my family. Because those American killers were the only reason I found out about the trust account, and they were in the Philippines with local police and identification cards. That means that someone connected to my family, and the NSA was involved. And there are other related events. Those Americans did tell me they were "company". My father, mother, and siblings threatened and warned me about these people at the same time they came. Now they deny of course.

Here is a link to one of Carol's profiles. Still, there are more players.

I can prove the family's motives by their emails and chats they had when they contacted my Boston lawyer. It was their concerted effort to stop me from suing my mother. Additionally, about my father's father, who had abused me sexually, whom Martin named his son. And their belief that I somehow manipulated them into buying a million dollar home for me. Now they spread every lie possible about me.

My family is connected, capable, and has a history of ruthlessness and the use of criminality to protect themselves. In the 1990s my father told me that he "would miss Whitey Bulger because he could sure fix a problem". That was when Whitey fled Boston. My father was director of Psychiatry for the Massachusetts Department of Corrections at a time when rumored CIA experiments were there. I happened to go to Israel with him and was introduced to me as a CIA man, so it was common knowledge that my father was connected to the CIA.

2016 They sprayed toxic LSD on me at the Manila exit bureau after escaping a checkup appointment where they sprayed me. My heart went 120 to 200 when I stood on a running machine. Several witnesses saw an imposter nurse and doctor switch places to do it. I was already connected to an EKG machine. My heart has always been normal, of course.

Going public with my story, then we might stop these spy networks from killing more people. It is also helpful to whistle blow about one of their phone weapons. Will you help?

Jim, My apologies. I overdrew the account with a purchase so there was not $3000 in cash in the account to wire today. Earlier this morning, I sold some funds kept in BSV, a short term bond fund .to provide funds for the wire and it will go out on Tuesday (Monday is a holiday). I m very sorry for the inconvenience this has caused. Carol Greenwald
